THE 5TH ANNUAL PIKES PEAK LAVENDER FILM FESTIVAL

September 17, 18 & 19 2004

A Sampling of This Year's Offerings:

GOLDFISH MEMORY

Quickly paced, quick-witted, and completely engaging, this hilarious romantic comedy, takes every kind of love affair-unexpectedly expectant lesbian mothers, gay and straight men, those looking for a fling ending up in long term relationships, and good--about to be married girls having lesbian affairs- they're all here in this Irish charmer.

The title comes from the pick-up line used repeatedly by one character-a philandering has been poet-professor. Goldfish, he tells women have a three second memory-span-much like humans when they fall in love. We forget the pain of the last break-up and go around the fishbowl all over again.

EATING OUT

Two roommates, Caleb and Kyle-one straight and one gay- are comfortable with their sexual identities but want to find partners. Kyle has a crush on Mark whose roommate is a woman named Gwen, who Caleb wants to be closer to. Gwen seems to be attracted to gay men so Caleb pretends to be gay while Kyle hopes to benefit from Caleb's closeness to Gwen-Mark's roommate. The resultant shuffling of assumed and misplaced sexual identities creates a melee in which ground rules and rules of attraction are up for grabs.

PROTEUS

Much like the rugged Proteus flower that flourishes in the harsh cliffs of the prison island (off the coast S Africa), furtive love between two prisoners as different as night and day, develops into a passionate relationship. Claas Blank, a native man, who's unjustly incarcerated for stealing cattle belonging to his people and Rijkhaart Jocobsz, a withdrawn Dutch sailor convicted of homosexuality, have a passionate affair while secretly dreaming of a life together outside of prison. A botanist, himself convicted of homosexuality in Amsterdam, flees to the prison island to study the flora, and observes Claas and Rijkhaart making love. Soon the authorities discover their affair... (Based on true events from the 18th Century.)

ROUND TRIP

Bored with an unhappy marriage, bus driver Nurit leaves her husband and convinces her reluctant children to move away with her from her dangerous northern Israeli town to the big city, Tel Aviv. Once there, she soon discovers that life in the city has its own difficult challenges.

She works long hours and seldom sees her children so decides to hire a Ghanaian immigrant named Mushidi to watch her children. Mushidi quickly brings warm domesticity and emotional support to Nurit's new home and much to their surprise they find themselves falling in love.
